THEY ARE DESPERATE FELLOWS.

Facing certain defeat, as they are; avoiding the exposure of their records, as they have, and refusing to discuss the issues of last fall and the preceding fall, the Democratic candidates have become desperate fellows. Political death, followed by calamity and dire despair, have incensed them to a state of madness and they are now grasping at every straw that floats upon the breeze, like the drowning man. Having fully made up their minds to evade a discussion of the principles they stood for one year ago, having issued an order eliminating "their cry of assassination," that poisoned the political atmosphere in the last campaign, having unanimously agreed to say nothing of those incendiary paintings exhibited in the Beckham procession, the cartoon which they said was the picture of Governor Taylor shooting Senator Goebel, the maddened, rebellious utterances made on the stump in Hartford, they have grown desperate in attempting to inject into the veins of true Republicans, the spirit of discontent and self-deceit.

Realizing, as they do, the certainty of death, if they attempt to defend anything they have ever stood for, they have gone forth a band of prowling snakes, disguised politicians under the guise of disinterested Republicans and asking Republicans to solicit certain gentlemen to announce as independent candidates, for the sole purpose of defeating the Republican nominees, and installing into office the men who rendered every power they possessed in driving Kentucky's rightful Governor from the realms of the Commonwealth. Mr. Henry Leach is out in a strong letter denouncing it, and charging it to those in sheer desperation. His language is strong and well applied: "I believe that it emanated from a Democratic source." Here is the secret of the story, well put. What authority have these men to enter the Republican party and assume to direct its destiny? Who has authorized these desperate fellows to put certain Republicans' names on a type-written document, breathed into existence through the instrumentality of a Democratic machine, in the hands of a Democratic candidate, and mail them out broadcast over the country? Indeed it is without authority, it has been done with one end in view, to arouse discussion in the Republican party, for they know success can come to them through no other channel and as a last and desperate venture they have decided to assume leadership for the opposing party.

Mr. Leach is not the only man whose name and honor have been insulted by the Democratic candidates and their management, but from appearance there are a number of other gentlemen. Among them is Mr. Thos. H. Benton, of Center town, than whom there is no stronger or more loyal Republican in the county. This Democratic petition is accepted by Mr. Benton as a great insult to his honor and patriotism. So humiliated was he on learning that Democrats were issuing calls for him to make the race for Sheriff on an independent ticket under the guise of Republicanism, he deemed it his duty to brand it a "Democratic forgery." Mr. Benton handles the insult to his pride and honor, as does Mr. Leach, without gloves. Concluding a paragraph he says: "I therefore DENOUNCE IT AS A DEMOCRATIC FORGERY, GOTTEN UP FOR THE SOLE PURPOSE OF INJURING ME AND DEFEATING THE REPUBLICAN TICKET."

Here you have it straight from two most excellent gentlemen, whose honor is above reproach and whose standing in their community is unassailable. They denounce these petitions as "Democratic demagoguery." These documents are printed and mailed out at the expense of that large Democratic corruption fund, for a Republican would not dare do such a thing, charging Republican frauds without citing a single instance where fraud was committed. These Democratic dodgers have charged fraud in the Republican primary and have never been able to find a single man, who let his vote on account of fraud. These fellows who openly boasted of their ability to out steal, out count and out contest; these same breeders of Goebelinism, revolutionary and anarchistic election laws—laws that remove every element of chance from the result of the election; these angelic, God-like purificationists, long-faced, sin-spotted political dispensationists are the would-be dictators of Ohio county Republicanism. Fellow citizens, do you want them? Read Messrs. Leach and Benton's letters and judge for yourselves.

POLITICAL COWARDICE.

Less than twelve months ago the Democratic candidates, now before the people, were waging a ruthless war against the people on strict political and "assassination" lines. They were bold in their defense of the contest and the overthrow of civil liberty; so intense were they infatuated with their seeming success, that when they planned a rally and ratification, they called a meeting of the "faithful" and sorely charged them that the cry of the day was not for a free and fair count and a loyal submission to the decree of the people, but it was "assassination." The chairman of the Democratic party issued his command that nothing should be said or done that would tend to allow men to reason, but instead, inflammatory charges were to be made, the passions and prejudices of the common people were to be tanned into insolence and raging hatred, the gods of reason were dethroned and driven from the kingdom, while the idolatrous revels in the magnanimity of their infamy. These same gentlemen, who are insisting that their character and conduct are such that they are meritorious of the people's good will and special favor, did more to carry politics into the sanctuary and the home circle than the citizens of any other community in this Commonwealth; for the stump, the man who cast his vote for John W. Yerkes and civil liberty, was denounced as an assassin; through the columns of the press they talked of revolutionary methods of the Republican party, and denounced Kentucky's rightful Governor as a murderer and drove him from the State, and placed in the executive chair a man that had actually been defeated by a decisive majority; in private correspondence to the men in the ranks they urged a strict adherence to the party lines, advising that "a vote for Yerkes was an endorsement of all the lawlessness of last winter."

Having fought the campaign on lines of prejudice and "assassination," they lost out and were repudiated by a majority of 400 liberty-loving citizens. Realizing, as they most certainly do, that another campaign waged on "assassination" and the election of Governor Taylor, would result in total annihilation, the head of the ticket and the candidate for Clerk have laid aside their past conduct, wretched as it is, and are now pleading for the abolition of politics from the campaign, and issuing orders to the fieldmen "no politics in it, boys," like the cry of the midnight rogue.

It is with the Republicans to determine whether these men shall be judged by the "deeds done in the body," they have it in their power to call a halt on the rabid and frenzied demon of cruel injustice; they can say to the man who carries the vote of the people in "his pocket," I will call you to strict account for those passion-stirring paintings and the "cut" that was flourished in the "bull's face" which made him bawl out: "Yes, there's your civil liberty." It is within the power of the Republicans and laboring men of this county to advise this man that he who votes against the laboring man shall not be promoted to office; it is also in the power of the Republicans to say to the head of the ticket, a man who made the race for office in '97 on the Populist ticket, advocated Populist doctrine in '98, '99 and 1900, and on the first of March, 1901, openly and boldly avows: "SINCE THE ADOPTION OF THE CHICAGO PLATFORM BY THE DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION IN 1896, AND THE RE-AFFIRMATION OF THIS PLATFORM BY THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY IN KENTUCKY, I HAVE BEEN AND AM NOW A DEMOCRAT. AS I UNDERSTAND, THE THINGS NECESSARY TO CONSTITUTE PARTY AFFILIATION ARE: FIRST, ALLEGIANCE TO PARTY PLATFORM, AND SECOND, SUPPORT OF PARTY NOMINEES," shall not be given official favors.

We submit the case to the discretion of a wise and just public, believing that the citizens of the county will say to Jimmie Miller, "Jimmie, so odious is your conduct, so unstable are you in your declarations, so demagogue-like are your decorum and history, I will cast you aside for a man who regards consistency and truthfulness a virtue," to Mr. Smith, "Tommie, you have had enough from the public crib, and whenever you have shown your hand, it has invariably been against the laboring people, therefore, I will have none of you;" and to Mr. Butler, "Tom, before you can hope for recognition, you must explain the mystery that now hangs about your massed fortune," while the hand writing on the wall for Messrs. Bennett and Wade, Godsey and Cox, reads after this fashion: "You are unfit for that which ye seek, hence I'll likewise cast you aside for the 'survivors of the fittest.'"

OBSERVER, Mr. Editor, will you please advise me, why the editor of the Herald refuses to argue politics with you, but instead only refers to you in an unkind and abusive manner, why does he not defend his party and the party's principles? In the first place, we answer, the Herald's editor has not the ability, nor the courage, nor the manhood to conduct a line of argument; his reference to us as the "mud-mill and calamity expounder and vice breeder," is due to his inability and the lack of dignity of a true gentleman. Secondly, no man can defend the Democratic party's conduct in State affairs and of course a mental prostitute could not.

The voter will take note that the "A. G. Benton," of letter scanda fame, talks of nothing but "top-line" these days. It is only the cry of "stop thief." "Benton" stood up last year and called all Republicans assassins, or its equivalent, endorers of assassination. He defended the contest and the overthrow of civil liberty, and of course the poor fellow is duty bound to do something to evade his abominable course. Who blames this intellectual ghost for his conduct? It's quite the thing to do, therefore we congratulate you.

Mr. GODSEY you are, we perceive, averse to answering questions, however, we have another for you: Will you kindly advise the public where it was you said you would see Joe Harder who was running for the marshaling of Fordsville, before you would vote for him? Whoo-ee! wasn't it awfully hot?

We might suggest for the benefit of "A. G. Benton," alias Heber Matthews, that Mr. Alvin Bennett is a gentleman, therefore, he cannot afford to take note of what any "A. G. Benton" might say of him.

Just how well the fertilizer candidate for 'Squire will run in the Center town district can better be told after November 5.

WHAT AMOUNT of corruption fund did you say had been massed to buy out the Republican party?

Who was it that said, "damned good lickins" would follow exposures of legislative records?

LEACH AND BENTON

Denounce the Petitions Which are Being Circulated Over the County as Democratic Forgeries.

Strong Letters Against the Unprincipled Leaders of Democracy.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN.—I wish to say to the Republicans of Ohio county, through the columns of your paper, that the petition which is being circulated in different parts of the county, calling on me and other defeated candidates to make an independent race, is fraudulent and originated without my sanction or solicitation. I feel that it places me in a false position before the people. I believe that it emanated from a Democratic source. Therefore I denounce it as being injurious to me and to the Republican party. I am in no way in sympathy with Democratic candidates or principles. Being a Republican I shall always be found fighting for Republicans and Republican principles. There is much depends on the result of the November election and every Republican should be found at his post of duty. HENRY LEACH. Cromwell, Ky., July 25, 1901.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN.—I understand that a petition is being circulated over the county, calling upon me to make an independent race for Sheriff. The petition, I understand, is being circulated by the campaign managers of the Democratic party emanating from Democratic headquarters. I am free to say it is not the work of a Republican. This petition not only places me in a false light before the people, but it is calculated to do my friends a grave wrong. I therefore denounce it as a Democratic forgery gotten up for the sole purpose of injuring me and defeating the Republican ticket. The man who placed my name on that document, did it without my knowledge or consent, for I do not approve of such Democratic demagoguery. I see no reason why any man who is a Republican should find fault with the present Republican ticket, for it is composed of the very best men in the party. They are all gentlemen of the highest type and should command the vote of every true Republican.

Very respectfully,
 THOS. H. BENTON.

HORSE BRANCH, KY.

July 24.—Some Goebelcrats, who are candidates for county offices, had the gall to say less than a year ago, "That a vote for John W. Yerkes would be to endorse all the lawlessness of last winter," now come before the people asking and pretending to be people that they will receive their votes. Let me say that there is a voter in Horse Branch precinct, who cast his vote for Mr. Yerkes, would be guilty of their slanderous talk of last winter and the picture of Gov. Taylor shooting Senator Goebel, just wait.

'till November 5, when we will attack Goebelinism and Tom Campbellism, along with the "brains and money" forever in Ohio county.

There is a candidate on the Democratic ticket, who is claiming the soldier votes, for the reason he says he was a soldier back in the sixties. The old veterans in this end of the county want to know where you were on February 14 and 15 '62 the day Mose Ragland, then but a mere boy of seventeen, faced the leaden hail and iron storms on the hard fought field of Fort Donelson. And where were you with your gun battling for a last cause on April 6 and 7 '62 the day Mose Ragland, with blood spattered garments, charged midst a shower of shot and shell and faced the enemy for two days on the dark and bloody field of Shiloh. The people of this county know Mose Ragland as a soldier and know him as a citizen.

There is nothing in the gift of the people of Ohio county too good for him and his election is generally conceded by the Republicans of Ohio county and concurred in by a host of Democrats. He only waits the coming of January 1, when he will again take the oath of office, and for Rogers, Cal Keown and the entire Republican ticket will do likewise. There will be no Goebel machine in Ohio county this fall to stuff ballot boxes and throw out votes and override the will of the people. Each vote will be counted as cast and the Republicans will see that there is a clean ballot and a fair count. R. L. BOYD

Magisterial Conventions.

Beaver Dam, Ky., July 20, 1901.

Pursuant to an order of the Republican Executive Committee of the Hartwood Magisterial District, a mass convention was held at Beaver Dam Ky., on July 20, 1901. R. C. Jarnagin was elected chairman and W. R. Hodges, Secretary. Mr. E. P. Taylor presented the name of George Barker for Justice of the Peace in Hartwood Magisterial District, No. 1. Mr. Wade moved that Mr. Barker be nominated by acclamation. The vote resulted in unanimous election of Mr. Barker, after which the convention was entertained by a very appropriate speech by the newly nominated candidate, in which he accepted the nomination and promised to use all his honorable means to secure his election.

Mr. W. P. Thomas presented the name of Jerome Allen for Constable of said Hartwood Magisterial District. The convention took similar action as to the nomination of candidate for Magistrate and Mr. Allen was unanimously elected and responded with a short talk and insured the convention that he would continue to be Constable after the November election. O motion the convention adjourned.

July 22.—Pursuant to call of the District Committee the Republicans of the Fordsville Magisterial District met in mass convention at Fordsville Saturday, July 20, 1901. Dist. chairman, Chancellor called the convention to order and the large crowd proceeded to business by unanimously electing Mr. J. J. Tilford Chairman and G. D. Royal, Secretary.

On motion it was agreed to leave the manner of obtaining the sense of the convention, as to its choice for Magistrate and Constable to the various candidates for said offices, who held a consultation and unanimously agreed upon taking the vote by secret ballot, whereupon Messrs. S. P. Roby, W. S. Gaines and J. H. Roberts were appointed by the chairman to take the vote. Mr. S. C. Miller received a large majority of the votes for Magistrate over both his opponents and was declared the nominee. Mr. V. B. Bratcher was nominated by acclamation for Constable, he being the only candidate for that office.

Mr. Miller was called for and responded in a rousing speech of acceptance. In response to calls Mr. E. Mitchell in a few words moved to make the nomination of Miller unanimous, which was "bigly" did. Mr. Travis Gentry the other defeated candidate, "joining in the chorus."

Practical Aids for Teachers and Applicants.

It is a SPECIAL aid to applicants in the matter of Theory and Practice. Much emphasis has been put upon this subject in the examinations, and many an applicant otherwise qualified is defective in theory of teaching, as this is a subject that cannot be learned from a text book.

A Guide to Study in the Preparation For Teachers' Certificate.

It is not a book prepared by one ignorant of the needs of teachers and applicants, but is the result of experience of eleven years in the school work by an ex-member of the State Board of Examiners. It is not an "almanac," but a pocket encyclopedia, containing exactly the information that both teachers and applicants must have.

Mrs. G. W. Fomes died Sunday morning of typhoid fever after a very brief illness. She leaves a husband and two small children to mourn her departure. Hartford, a citizen joined us in extending to the bereaved husband sincere condolences.

Mr. Barrett Hudson, Burd died Tuesday evening of old age. His remains were buried at Mt. Carmel Wednesday. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. N. Jaragin. He was a very old and highly respected citizen.

Mr. A. E. Pate was accidentally shot Wednesday morning while walking down the street toward the bridge by Guy Hines, a colored boy, who was shooting at a chicken. Only one shot struck him, entering in the left temple just over the eye. Dr. Ford probed for the shot, but was unable to locate it. It was a very slight wound which will not bring any serious trouble.

Some prowling hulk went into the bed room of Uncle Tom Allen, near town, Tuesday night and stole $21.75 out of his pants pocket and sneaked off, covered by the gloom of night. He got one twenty dollar gold piece, one silver dollar and some small change. He was tracked in the direction of Hartford. Uncle Tom is quite eighty-five years of age and the man that would steal from such an aged gentleman must have little regard for the venerable citizen.

The old reliable C. R. Martin, the oldest and best jeweler in the Green River Country, has located at Hartford and can be found at the drug store of J. H. Williams. It is not necessary for us to say that he is a very superior artist in his line, as work done by him for many years here is the only recommendation that is needed. No better mechanic ever lived here. He does not claim to do the impossible, but will give you the best work for the least money. He is prepared to do all kinds of Watch, Clock, Jewelry and spectacle repairing. He is alive to the welfare of our town and county and such men should be patronized. His family will, in a few days, join him and make their future home here.

Card of Thanks.
I desire to thank the good people of Hartford for the kind assistance rendered me during the recent and fatal illness of my beloved wife, and shall strive to repay the debt of gratitude in the future. Very respectfully,

OHIO COUNTY PEDIGOGUES

Meet in Institute Work With

Prof. O. M. Shultz

Instructor.

Home Talent Produces Results Very Gratifying

to Teachers.

Interest and Enthusiasm Mark

Each Day's Work.

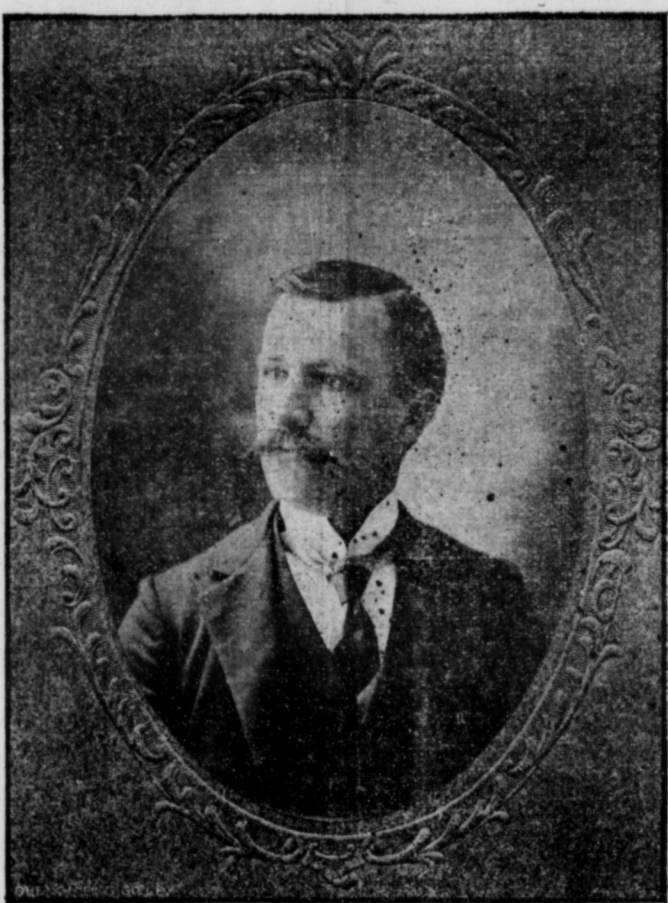

The Ohio County Teachers' Institute convened Monday in Court Hall with a large number of the faithful present, to which have been added many more since the opening Monday morning. Never before in the history of the county have there been so bright and progressive corps of teachers assembled in Institute work as have graced the county's seat this week. Despite the furious shafts of Old Sol, the Institute has been doing excellent work. The teachers are alert and ready to respond when duty calls, which is certainly a boon for the calling. Superintendent Rogers has worked faithfully during the past four years er when he meets them in the course of his school work. One thing that has marked the present Institute, is the amount of work done by the teachers. Many Institutes are bored with tiresome lectures from the instructors, but not so in the present case for the teachers are doing the debating and lecturing.

PROF. O. M. SHULTZ, COUNTY SUPT.

The teachers enrolled are as follows: Louana Ford, Blanton Coleman, Ora Ashby, Mattie Tichenor, Sophia Wallace, Florence Rowan, Allie Fielden, Mattie Robertson, Maggie Davidson, Annie Berryman, Rosy Berryman, Leota Patton, Sara Pirtle, Mary Holmway, Daisy Godsey, Alice Bosket.

PROF. O. M. SHULTZ, INSTRUCTOR.

in raising the standard of those engaged in the pedagogic field and with the co-operation of two most excellent seats of learning, the Hartford College and the West Kentucky Seminary, his efforts have been crowned abundantly and the common expression regarding the present corps of teachers viz: That it is the best with which the county has ever been honored, is, in a great measure, due to the work of the Superintendent co-operating with these institutions of learning in an earnest effort to raise the standard of the public school teacher.

The fact that the Superintendent has chosen home talent to conduct the Institute, should encourage every teacher and call forth a more earnest effort, and arouse a greater desire to accomplish more acceptable results during the present year than formerly. Prof. Shultz has labored earnestly and zealously to make the Institute interesting and pleasant for the teachers, in which work, he has exhibited marked ability as leader and instructor and his efforts and devotion to the cause, have met a hearty response from the teachers, and as a result, the Institute goes in interest and enthusiasm, producing results that should be considered a compliment to any educator, and should recommend Prof. Shultz to Superintendents desiring live and up-to-date instructors.

The discussion of subjects which confront every teacher in the school room have been conducted in a manner that will greatly benefit the teachers.

What are Humors?

They are vitiated or impure fluids coursing the veins and mingling the tissues. They are commonly due to defective digestion but are sometimes inherited. How do they manifest themselves? In many forms of cutaneous eruption, nail troubles, eruptions, pimples and boils, and in weakness, loss of appetite and sleep. How are they expelled? By which also builds up the system that has suffered from them.

Good's Sarsaparilla

MALINDA'S RESPONSE TO JOSHUA.

BY SH. MURCK

[To the poetic editor of the Hartford Herald these lines are respectfully dedicated.]

Oh Joshua, my Joshua,

When we married, you an' I,

My daddy sed you was an ass

An' that you'd prove it by an' by.

Now I see its goin' to turn out

Just like the ole man 'lowed,

You'll be a bloomin' jacksn

In the 'lection stealin' crowd.

If all about the top line,

Ever word you've sed was true,

'Twould still be angel politics,

Side of what the other fellers do

Thars the Music Hall Convention

Whar the stealin' run so high,

That the Jameses an' the Youngers

Would a bin afeared to try.

Then thars the Gobel contest,

The whole worl' viewed with awe,

That they'd still steal the offices

When they'd failed with Gobel law

'As still you're goin' to jine 'em,

Why, Joshua, I'll declare,

People'll say they've bought you,

Hoots, hide an' I air.

You remind me of ole Touser,

Not his chokin' of a coon,

But of his sully barkin'

When he's bayin' at the moon.

I'm sorry of your doings,

But I've more respect for dad

An' the soundness of his judgment

That uster make me mad.

If you're goin' with the Gobel gang,

I'll put away my gown,

For I'm ashamed, Joshua,

To go with you to town.

A Sad Death.

Mr. Obadiah Love, of near Dundee, died last Saturday morning of heart trouble, while picking up apples in the orchard. When he left the house early in the morning, he advised the family to suffer no uneasiness should he not return for dinner. Acting upon this advice the family thought nothing of his prolonged absence until late in the evening, when his son, Mr. John Taylor Love, went in search for him and found him dead under an apple tree by the side of the basket, which he was filling with apples. He had filled one basket and was gathering the second when he was suddenly attacked by the disease which had long been harassing and annoying him. When found he was in a stooping position and from seeming appearance had been dead quite a while. However, following the law governing such cases, Coroner Hunt was called to hold an inquest which returned a verdict in accordance with facts herein set forth.

Mr. Love was a very highly respected citizen, about three score and ten. His remains were interred at the Milton Taylor graveyard Sunday.
